

Will not Deport British Subjects Without Full Trial

OTTAWA, May 27.—Senator Robertson's bill amending the immigration act by repealing the clause giving the government authority summarily to deport British born under suspicion of sedition or shown to be engaged in agitation against constituted authority—(this legislation was passed last year at the time of the Winnipeg strike)—came up for second reading in the senate today and encountered strong opposition. Previous to adjournment on May 11, Senator Lynch-Staunton, Hamilton, moved that this measure be given the six months' hoist. The debate will be continued tomorrow.

In supporting his bill today, Senator Robertson claimed that if the Hamilton senator had been fully aware of the facts he would not have made such a motion. The deportation authority being abrogated, he said, was adopted during the Winnipeg troubles when it was found that there was not machinery provided for the criminal code to deal with the situation.

Since then amendments to the criminal code had been made which made it unnecessary to provide such arbitrary powers vested in the government as those given by last year's act. Even at the time the legislation was passed, although requisite, it had been criticised as contrary to the spirit of the British constitution. It was held as contrary to British traditions to deport a British citizen without a trial by his peers.

Cannot Punish Twice

Senator Sharpe: "Under the law as it now stands, would it be possible to deport the men now convicted in Winnipeg for the trouble last year?"

Sensor Robertson: "My view as a layman is that these men, tried, convicted and punished, cannot be punished again for the same offence."

Proceedings Senator Robertson said that the government which was responsible for the legislation of last year, now favored its amendment. It had caused unrest, was anti-British in spirit, and it was not his personal idea that the bill before the house represented but the collective and considered opinion of the cabinet.

Northern Settlers Get Red Cross Nurse

En route for the Pouce-Coupe country, forty miles beyond Dunvegan on the fringe of settlement, Miss Kate Ethel Heastie, a fully trained nurse of several years' experience and a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses, of London, England, left Calgary on Thursday, May 13th. She is the first nurse to be sent out by the Alberta Provincial Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society to carry the benefits of expert nursing service to the pioneers of the hinterland. Her post of duty lies in an isolated colony separated from the nearest white settlement by forty miles of muskeg. She takes with her $600 worth of supplies for the use of the settlers.

Arrangements to establish the service were made immediately after the Provincial Red Cross, a fortnight ago, had received word of the existence of an emergent condition at Pouce-Coupe. Then for the first time it was learned that a colony of twenty-nine settlers and their dependents had been taken into this country in August, 1919, by the Soldiers Settlement Board, and that the settlers had since their arrival entirely lacked nursing or medical service of any kind. In every instance in which the Red Cross can supplement the work of the Alberta Department of public health it is doing so, and in co-operation with the department aims greatly to extend its already large sphere of usefulness in the near future. The emergency at Pouce-Coupe provided an opportunity which was quickly seized.

Base Ball Games

The Mills Proposals to the Council

An adjourned meeting of the council was held in the town offices on Wednesday evening last with Mayor Fawcett in the chair, Councillors Thewlis, Muldoon, Morris, MacDonald and Gardiner were also present.

The mayor introduced to the council Mr. A. C. MacKay, who accompanied by Mr. Geo. Skelding, appeared before the council regarding the hospital situation. Mr. MacKay was anxious that the council should come to some decision, and as early as possible, as to terms upon which they would be willing to hand over the hospital to the new municipal board if such were formed. Mr. MacKay acknowledged to the council that they possessed a building that was as modern as any in the province, but he urged the council to be as liberal in their offers as they could possibly be, in the interests of the district to be served. Mayor Fawcett assured Mr. MacKay that the Town of Macleod had no desire to hold the municipal board up for any fancy or unreasonable figure, and he thought the matter could best be dealt with in committee, and the Finance and Health Committees would consider the whole question and report to the council.

An invitation from the Canadian Good Roads Association, which meets in convention in Winnipeg June 1-3 was ordered filed.

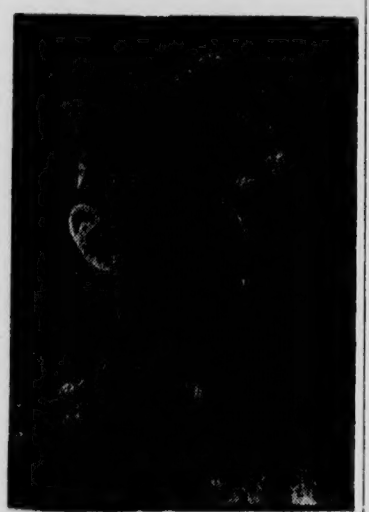

The usual monthly applications for grants to pay salaries, from the Public School Board and from the Separate School Board were received and the amounts ordered to be paid. The monthly accounts were also read and passed.

The report of the committee on the revised schedule of rates for light and water was submitted and adopted, the new rates to go into effect on July 1st next.

The mayor stated that he was in receipt of a memorandum from Mr. Burns, representing Col. Peuchon, asking certain concessions from the town which included the old hospital and site, a right of way or 200 feet over the island, free power to run the concrete mixer while they are building the dam, free water for fire protection purposes only, free water to their boiler for one year, the town to bear the expense of constructing the railway spur as far as the Town Power House, and they also ask for a fixed rate of taxation.

The mayor said that he saw nothing unreasonable in these requests, and he was willing to grant them in so far as the council had power to do so, but the whole matter had better be left over for further discussion.

The council decided to advertise for a policeman and until the appointment is made the police committee will have power to appoint a special constable for special occasions.

Policemen Burned to Death in Ireland

DUBLIN, May 28.—The police barracks at Kilmallock, 19 miles south of Limerick, were destroyed by fire last night after an attack by armed men. It is reported two policemen were burned to death and one civilian wounded.

Late news from the scene of the fire says the men who attacked the barracks numbered more than 100. They were armed with revolvers and bombs. The policemen defending the barracks replied with bombs and rifles. An official report of the incident says it lasted for more than five hours, when the attacking party withdrew, leaving the barracks in flames. Sergeant Kane and Constable Martin the report says, were killed. Their bodies are in the wreckage.

Constable Hoey was seriously injured, while Sergeant O'Sullivan and Constables Holmes, Sullivan, Barry and Hall received minor injuries. It is unofficially reported that one of the raiders was killed.

Railway Traffic Demoralized

Limerick, Ireland, May 28.—Raiders have been torn up at Kilmallock, Charleville and other places, seriously interrupting train service between Limerick and points on the Great Southwestern railway lines. South of Limerick Junction railway traffic has been completely demoralized.

Derry Withdraws Honors

LONDON, Ireland, May 28.—By nineteen votes to sixteen the corporation today decided to remove from the roll of the city's freemen the name of Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland. The Unionists challenged the legality of the proposal. The mayor of the city voted for it. He said later that if he had not done so capital would have been made out of his refusal.

Alderman Prasley, proposing the resolution to strike out the name of Viscount French, said that under Lord French the "social and civil life of Ireland had been tortured. Viscount French," the alderman declared, "stands for Cromwellian cruelty and is the Pontius Pilate of Ireland."—Calgary Albertan.

Hospital Board Makes Statement

On Wednesday evening, the 26th instant, the Macleod Hospital Board met to consider the matter of engaging nurses to continue the hospital work until a vote is taken on a scheme for the formation of a Municipal Hospital District.

The hospital employees had previously all received a month's notice terminating their employment as it had been found impossible to carry on the hospital work for lack of funds—the Town Council not being in a position to make good the deficits as heretofore by taxation—but subsequently a generous public voluntary subscription made it possible in the opinion of the Board to keep the hospital going for a few months.

The Board had to consider the advisability of reducing the number of employees in the interests of economy and was also faced with the problem of deciding whether to re-engage the former matron and look for an entirely new staff of nurses, or to re-engage the former staff without the matron, and in view of the fact that it was a temporary arrangement so far as the present Board is concerned, the latter alternative was considered more expedient and adopted.

Dated at Macleod, Alberta, May 29th, A.D. 1920.

THE NEW SERIAL "BOUND AND GAGGED"

Around the world without a rag or a cent! That was the sporting wager which was made by Archibald Alexander Barlow when his fiancée compared his aimless and shiftless existence with that of the tramp-poet Oscar Ben Glade.

"Complete Surrender of Rights of United States"

WASHINGTON, May 27.—President Wilson vetoed the peace resolution today and informed congress he could not become a party to the peace program framed by Republican leaders of the senate and house because he considered it put an "ineffaceable stain" on the nation's honor, to establish technical peace by such a method. The president said in his veto message it would be to effect "a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as Germany is concerned," and to relinquish all the high purpose which led the nation into war and which were embodied in the rejected treaty of Versailles. The president's act, apparently, brought to another and final deadlock the efforts of the Republican and Democratic leaders to reach a decision on a peace settlement. Republican leaders conceded they had no chance to pass the resolution over the executive's veto, though an attempt will be made in the house tomorrow and on both sides it was predicted that the issues of the treaty controversy would have to be fought out in the political campaign with Democrats and Republicans blaming each other for the failure to consummate a state of peace.

In his message the president did not indicate whether he might again submit the treaty to the senate for ratification, but he said the question raised was whether the United States cared to draw apart from the rest of the world, or to join with other nations in attaining the ends to which the treaty was framed.

The veto had been expected by the Republican leaders and they made plans to close the incident promptly by a record vote on re-passage of the resolution. The message went first to the house, where its reading was greeted with cheers from Democrats and derision by Republicans. Without discussion it was agreed to take a vote at noon tomorrow.

Forward

"Bound and Gagged" is described as "a novel serial of intermingled laughs, thrills, excitement and suspense, in ten absorbingly interesting weekly episodes"—and this description fits the production like a glove.

For the first time in serials we have an element of broad comedy running throughout the story—rich humor of the uproarious kind interspersed with melodramatic stunts and thrills—an element which "lifts" the narrative into a class of its very own, yet at the same time preserving all of the strong serial material which is the delight of "serial fans."

Pathe's own film committee, in passing judgment upon "Bound and Gagged," was unanimous in declaring it to be the very best serial produced under the direction of Mr. George B. Seitz—and this is praise indeed when it is remembered that Mr. Seitz is responsible for the majority of the successful Pearl White serials.

Description

"Bound and Gagged" opens up like a Fairbanks comedy-drama, rushes swiftly into exciting action, introduces a story of absorbing interest, and huris itself along at an amazing rate of speed. The three reels of the first episode disclose that the hero makes a wager to make a trip around the world minus money or influence—in fact, he offers to start his trip absolutely naked! His place in the affections of Margaret Hunter has been

British Ambassador to U.S. Presents Credentials

Sir Auckland Geddes, new British ambassador, formally presented his credentials to President Wilson at the White House and exchanged with the executive assurances of good will and amity.

None of the diplomatic questions pending between the United States and Great Britain were touched upon specifically between the president and Sir Auckland.

"His majesty, my king, has instructed me to deliver to you this letter, and to say that it is his desire that I should, at this first moment renew to you, sir, his assurances of the lively interest which he takes in everything that promotes the welfare and prosperity of the United States of America."

"Immediately before I left the court of St. James I had the honor of being received in audience by him, when he charged me particularly to express to you, sir, the vivid sense of pleasurable recollection with which he remembers your excellency's visit and that of Mrs. Wilson to him at Buckingham Palace."

"He has heard with deep emotion and regret of the loss of health from which you, sir, have unhappily suffered. He prays that it may restore you to your accustomed vigor."

"He was asked me also to thank you with the utmost warmth and cordiality for the gratifying reception and boundless hospitality which have been extended to his eldest son, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, on each separate occasion on which he has visited the shores and lands of this great nation."

G.W.V.A. Want Early Election

OTTAWA, May 27.—R. B. Maxwell, of Winnipeg, Dominion president of the Great War Veterans' association, who has been here for several days investigating the political situation, tonight issued the following message to the 77 branches of the association throughout the Dominion:

"From knowledge gained of political and economic conditions in Canada during the three years' effort on the part of the Great War Veterans' Association to obtain equitable reconstruction legislation I deem it my duty to urge upon you the necessity of an early general election."

"Parliament has confessed inability usurped by Oscar Ben Glade, a tramp poet and faker, and Archibald Alexander Barlow is determined to show Margaret that, although he may have been compared to "a goldfish in a bowl," he possesses sufficient sand to "go one better" than Oscar Ben Glade. And Archie duly starts on his trip, according to specifications, without a stitch of clothing and without a cent of cash.

Barlow's adventures are thrilling and exciting and absorbingly interesting, as he manages to clothe himself and steal aboard a steamer bound for Sunny Spain. He falls foul of one Esteban Carnero, a wily Spaniard, who plots the restoration of the monarchy of Cordillera, a little kingdom which has recently declared itself a republic, and a duel of wits ensues. An imprisoned princess, Spanish bandits, exciting adventures in mountain fastnesses, knives, guns, hair-breadth escapes, deeds of daring, all combine in the serial mixture to make up a wonderful offering for every class of picture theatre patron.

"M" Division R.C.M.P. Wins Honors at Lethbridge

On May 21st a portion of "M" Division R.C.M.P. squadron, Major Douglas (O.C.), Capt. Lindsay and Inspector Townsend commanding, patrolled to Lethbridge to take part in the 25th anniversary celebration of the Hudson's Bay Company.

On the down trip the gale of wind made it most uncomfortable, but the men and horses arrived at Lethbridge in good trim and fresh.

On the 22nd some practice at sports was had and on the 24th the squadron was the main feature of the parade through Lethbridge streets and out to the exhibition ground, where the programme of sports was carried out.

In the mounted events Corporal Houghton, Corporal Fritz and Constable Heaton carried away first prizes in tent pegging with lance and sword.

The evening of the 24th was most enjoyably spent at a ball given in aid of the Lethbridge Athletic Association.

On the 25th only routine duty was performed on account of rain, and on the evening of the 26th the squadron left Lethbridge at 8.30 a.m., spent two hours at Monarch for noon rest and arrived at barracks here at 5 o'clock. Major Douglas (O.C.), Capt. Lindsay and Inspector Townsend were guests of Commanding Officer Pennefather, at Lethbridge during the squadron's stay there.

to redeem former pledges and restore to returned soldiers and dependents in a substantial measure those economic advantages they would now enjoy but for war service.

"Parliament has shown reluctance to offset such failure by general measures for the improvement of living conditions throughout the country, whereby returned men might more easily regain a sure foothold in the national life.

War Profits Unmolested

"Parliament now requires that those who served in the war shall share in the payment of the major portion of the war debt despite the fact that war-accumulated wealth is unmolested.

"Parliament as at present constituted, apparently, cannot cope with the distressing living conditions which affect not only the returned soldiers but the public generally.

"Parliament has denied to the electorate of Canada any opportunity since 1911 to assert their views upon domestic questions by means of the ballot.

Outlives its Mandate

"Parliament continues to ignore the fact that the demand for a general election does not arise solely from among returned soldiers but it is supported by the vast majority of those who have the interests of the country at heart and who view with alarm the increasing unrest.

"Parliament has outlived its mandate.

"The time has arrived for the people to declare themselves on the vital questions of the day. I, therefore, call upon you, in defence of the basic principles upon which this association was founded, to assemble in mass meetings with your fellow citizens and secure without delay an unmistakable expression of the wishes of the people in regard to the necessity for a general election."

Christie's Circus in Train Wreck

Christie's Circus, which was billed to appear at Macleod on Thursday did not arrive owing to the collapse of a bridge over an irrigation canal, on the C.P.R. between Raymond and Welling, shortly past 8 o'clock this morning, caused the death of a circus employee, and serious injury to another.

The train was that of Christie Bros. circus, which was coming on from Cardston to Lethbridge to play here this afternoon. Crossing No. 12 bridge the baggage car, which was heavily laden, went through the structure after the engine had passed over it. The victims were in the baggage car at the time of the accident.

A Macleod Girls Visit to London

London, England

My Dear Aunt—It is a long time since I have written to you, I am in London now. We came up on Monday and on Tuesday we went sight-seeing. We went to the British Museum and heard a lecture on the Elgin marbles, I found it very dull. We had dinner at an A. B. C. shop, then we went for a walk along Oxford street, and took a bus to Hyde Park. When we got into the park it began to rain, we tried to shelter under a tree, but got very wet as we had only one umbrella between us. We took the underground home, it was great fun, we had to change as the trains going to our station did not stop where we were, so we got on one train and then got on another train; they do that so as to lessen the crowds of people. On Wednesday we went to the Zoo, we saw a lot of animals, they have only one elephant so

Heads Up!

THE AL. G. BARNES BIG 4 RING WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS IS COMING TO MACLEOD ON JUNE 11, AND SO IS ALL THE FOLKS FOR 50 MILES AROUND

There are lots of small aggregation calling themselves circuses in the country, and some of them are fairly good, but the Al. G. Barnes show is the one big wild animal circus of the world, and it is a Canadian institution, all of the official staff having their homes in the Dominion.

The Barnes circus travels in 52 heavily loaded cars now, according to Robert W. Thompson, of Vancouver, one of the advance men, and the performance is given in 4 rings and a massive steel arena; there are 1200 wild animal actors, 600 people and 550 horses in the exhibition; there are 110 distinct features, any one of which would more than constitute the whole show of some other we could not have a ride. There were camels to ride and you could have rides in the Llana carts. I did not fancy the camels, they look so hairy. We saw the lions fed, but I liked the parrots best, several of them could talk, one of them kept saying "hell-ow"! One of the parrots the keeper took out and let it sit on the peoples arm, the parrot kissed the keeper and put his head on one side. We went to the reptile house and saw a python and a crocodile and a lot of snakes and lizards. We also went to the insect house where they have a lot of different insects some of them dead and some of them alive. We went to a lot of different houses then we went home.

On Thursday we went to Trafalgar Square, and saw Nelson's Monument, it is very high, we also saw the Admiralty Arch. We went to a shop and had dinner and then took a bus to the Tower of London. We walked across the tower bridge and around the tower to the entrance on the other side, Dad got tickets for everything. We went to the White Tower and the armories, and then we went to the Bloody Tower. It is the tower where the little Princes was murdered, from there we went to the Beauchamp Tower where all the people were kept that were going to be murdered. The walls of the room are covered with carvings and names, there was one window in the room, it looked out to the place where the scaffold used to be. We saw the block and the headsman's axe. We went and saw the crown jewels, they were open for the first time, it was very interesting seeing them.

We saw the Traitors Gate, the gate Queen Elizabeth refused to go in because she said she was not a traitor. After the tower we walked to where the monument is put up to where the fire of London stopped. On Friday mother and I went to the British Museum, we went to the jewel room and saw a lot of lovely jewelry and wreaths beautifully done in beaten gold. On Saturday we all went to see the Foot Guards charge at St James Palace, but for some unknown reason they had charged at half past nine instead of eleven o'clock. We then hurried to the Admiralty and saw the Horse Guards charge there. It was very interesting, then we went to the embankment, sat a while, and then went to the Parliament Buildings, mother and I went into what they call Westminster Palace, Dad stayed outside with Oliver as he was not well. We went into all sorts of rooms with notices stuck up such as "Peer's Lobby," "The Robing Room," "The House of Lords," "The House of Commons." Dad and I then went and had lunch, Mother and Oliver had theirs in the park. Then we joined mother and organisations, if they could produce them.

There are 45 clowns with the Barnes circus now, and all of them are in action all the time.

The zoo is the largest collection of animal specimens ever gotten together, a tour of which is an education in itself; in many cities, schools are closing so that the pupils may have the benefit of close-up study.

There is a chorus of 40 girls of noticeable pulchritude; clad in costumes that cost Barnes many dollars but it is said that you would scarcely notice them, that is, the costumes; this is not a case of wild women and wild animals, but of singing girls on dancing horses.

The front line of this mounted chorus extends 449 feet, and is an operatic equestrian extravaganza, led by Bessie Harvey and her thousands of love birds.

Sea lions play ball while a chimpanzee umpires the game; camels juggle wolves from their humps while girls wrestle tigers, and men fight grizzly bears; surely this must be a show of wonders.

went to Westminster Abbey and then to Buckingham Palace, The King and Queen were absent, he and the Queen and all the Royal family were at Windsor. We saw the monument to Queen Victoria, we sat in St James Park, then took a bus home.

On Sunday a little after two a fog came down, and when our landlady came through the room she said "good night ladies." The whole afternoon I kept wondering when mother would say "come to bed children". On Monday we went to several stores and bought some things and then went to Madame Lussards Wax Works, I did not like it very much. We did not go into the chamber of horrors. We had afternoon tea there. We always have afternoon tea since we have been in England. On Tuesday we went down to the Canadian Pacific Ocean service office and the Montreal Star office and to several other offices, it was awfully dull and very tiring. Then we went to Charing Cross and took a bus to St Paul's Cathedral; there was service on so we could not go around. We then walked to the Mansion House and then to Guild Hall. It is a very old place, in it are the famous God and Magog. We went down a moving staircase and took a tube home. Next day we went to Gamage's to see the toys. I had five shillings to spend but did not see a thing I wanted. On Saturday Dad and Oliver went to the Screen Museum while mother and I went to Derry and Toms, where we were finished there we joined Dad at the Museum. There they have a lot of working models. Some keep working all the time and others you either turn a handle or press a button and they work. We had lunch and then went to the Natural History Museum. It was very interesting. Sunday we went to the Foundling to Church. After church we saw all the little girls having their dinner and then we saw the little boys having theirs. After dinner we went to the marble arch and heard different people lecturing on different subjects. We listened to the band for a few minutes, then we went down to the River Serpentine. We did not take a boat and go on as it was too windy. I have had a lovely time in London, I go back to School on Tuesday it is now May 4th. I am sending you a programme of our school concert. It was rotten that I was feeling so miserable just then. Please give my love to one and all. Write and tell me all the news about Macleod.

"Jinx" is Clean Comedy of Traveling Circus Life

Mabel Normand as Circus Waif is Uproariously Funny in Appealing Goldwyn Picture

Critics sometimes contend that photoplays are not always wholesome mental food for juvenile audiences.
Mabel Normand's very latest Goldwyn Picture, "Jinx," which will be presented at the Empress Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, is a satisfying production from the parental standpoint, for it is thoroughly clean and bright, and the funny situations are devoid of vulgarity masking
as comedy.

The story situations are grouped about a traveling circus and an orphan's home. Although the little waifs of the picture wear simple checked gingham frocks, thick stockings and shabby buttoned shoes in the orphans' home, it would be interesting for audiences to see these tots on their way to the studio in the morning. Little Frankie Lee, who has played so many important juvenile roles in big productions, and who carries a leading role in "Jinx," comes to the studio with his mother in his own automobile, wearing quite the smartest thing in the line of sailor suits ever conceived by any tailor.
With all his success, Frankie is modest and boyish and lovable. The other well-known juvenile players who appear with Miss Normand are Buddy Messinger, Ed. Tiebol, Alice and May Giraci, Peaches Jackson, Jack Condon
and Youna O'Rourke.

Of course, the orphan children find their matron visit the circus when it comes to town. The Jinx of the circus (Mabel Normand) creates such a lot of trouble that she has to run away to avoid punishment. Exhausted, she goes to sleep in the barn back of the orphange, and the following morning
the children find her and report that "There is a pretty fairy asleep in the manger with moo-moo." When the fairies wake, she teaches the children
how to play circus. The old buggies in the barn become chariots and the hay racks are golden spears. Slicker (Cullen Landis), the wild man of the show, climbs beneath a hedge and helps with the fun. Later, after many encounters with adversity, the Jinx finds her make-believe world real.

Supreme Court of Alberla

At the sitting of the Supreme Court of Alberta held at Macleod and presided over by Mr. Justice Hyndman the following cases were disposed of:
Lewis vs. Johnson. This was a dispute over a certain mortgage relation to automobiles. One Dave Cummings mortgaged certain automobiles to Johnson, Cummings then sold the cars to Lewis, then Johnson seized them. Lewis then brought action against Johnson to recover. Judgment was reserved. H. O. Haslam, of Clareholm, for plaintiff, and J. W.

McDonald, K.C., of Macleod, for defendant.

Stires vs. Murphy. This was an action for malicious prosecution brought by Stires against Murphy and a claim for $5400 damages. The action was dismissed. J. R. Palmer, of Lethbridge for plaintiff, J. W.
McDonald, K.C., for defendant.

Golf Notes

A golf tournament was held on the links on Wednesday last between the lawyers and the Bankers.

Judge E. P. McNeil defeated W.
Embury of the Union Bank, 8 holes up.

J. W. McDonald defeated J. R.
Johnston of the Bank of Montreal, 11
holes up.

R. F. Barnes beat W. Forsythe of the Bank of Montreal, 7 holes.

Whilst J. B. Garrow of the Union
Bank defeated T. B. Martin, 6 holes.
Mr. Martin himself was unable to play his place being taken by Dr. A.
H. Kennedy.

The tournament resulted in a win
for the lawyers, 20 holes.

BASEBALL

The town boys went down to another defeat 5 to 2 in a seven innings game with the Mounties on Monday evening. The town were not able to use any of the Bank Staffs,
as the Bankers were all hard at work

What Hoover Says

Herbert Hoover is a man who it will be generally admitted has made a closer study of food and marketing conditions than almost any other man in the world. Mr. Hoover was in the marketing and rationing business all through the war and he is still in intimate touch with world conditions. What he says, therefore,
on this subject, is entitled to serious consideration, no matter how extreme his statements may seem, for he above all men should know what he is talking about. Moreover, he is not a man given to talking without having close knowledge of the facts.

Recently in letters to a Montana senator Mr. Hoover suggests that with the present trend of decrease in agricultural production in the United States it is not impossible in course of time that the republic will be more or less dependent upon overseas food supplies. There is something so startling in this prophecy that the average man would be inclined to regard it as a joke, but the fact that Hoover is the man makes one hesitate.

Present high prices, Mr. Hoover asserts, must sooner or later cease and a reaction set in. When the collapse comes, he says, the intermediate dealer will seek with more or less success to turn the resultant loss
over to the farmer. This, he argues, is the result of the "indirect, expensive, wasteful, obsolete marketing system of the United States." The manufacturing industries have developed out of pace with agriculture and labor is being drawn in thousands from the farm to the town at wages with which the farmer cannot contend. This is Hoover's conclusion, and it is on this that he bases his contention that in time if the present system continues, America will be looking to Europe for food supplies.

There is no question but that Mr.
Hoover has come closer to the true situation with respect to the American farmer than any other investigator. And what he says of the United States agriculturist applies with equal force to the Canadian tiller of the soil. There is a tremendous problem involved here that the farmers themselves have not yet begun to unravel and that governments have not touched. One of these days it will be forced upon them and they will have to do something in the cause of national safety.

Need of Discipline

The principal of the Medicine Hat
high school reports that he has recommended the passing of a very low percentage of the pupils in the high school and comments so unfavorably upon the school situation there that the Medicine Hat News seriously suggests closing up the high school in that city, although the high school is a well staffed and well equipped organization.

The principal comments upon the alarming laxity among the pupils due to interest in social functions. In his report to the board he says that getting an education is a business and not a pastime, and complains that students who attend dances until well past midnight cannot do their best in their school work. He criticises the parents for not giving greater assistance to the teachers. The general complaint is laxness in family discipline.

The same complaint is heard in different parts of the country. In university examinations in different parts of the country the percentages of successes in examination this year was unusually low compared to past years and the explanation given is that the students are giving too much thought to social functions.

The Albertan is informed that in this city there are no serious complaints this year compared with past years, although the grievance has not been removed and is not absent.

It all seems to indicate that during the nervous, exciting war years, there was a let-up in the home discipline,
which is necessary in the development of the youth and in progress of the nation. Following this nervous excitement was the inevitable reaction which followed peace. We are not down to the old stride yet.

The principal of the Medicine Hat
school puts the blame largely where it belongs, which is upon the parents of the children who have permitted
the let-up in the necessary discipline.
There is more evidence than in the school examination of the let-up in

KNOCKING THE GRAIN GROWERS

There are some ancient members at Ottawa who seem to be at the pinnacle of their glory when they are in the house of commons making vicious attacks upon the Grain Growers' Grain company, of which they know little and say very much. No Yankee tail-twister ever had more amusement over the tail of the British lion, than these members of parliament in referring to the iniquities of this corporation.

We will be glad to have every man interested attend and take part in the discussion so that the matter may be settled in the best interest of all concerned.

They have made themselves believe that the Grain Growers' Grain company was a gigantic trust, fattened by the blood and sweat of the poor benighted and plundered farmers of the western country. In hated breath they refer to the volume of profits of the president, Mr. Crerar, and the robbing of the farmer in overage charges.

It is almost unnecessary to defend the Grain Growers in this country. The association was organized for the purpose of saving the grain grower of the west from destruction, a work that it accomplished after much trouble and great effort. It was the rallying point of the farmer against the solid phalanx of the railroad corporation, the elevator interests and the grain buying interests. Not until this company entered the field, did the western farmer get any sort of justice, but for the battle of the Grain Growers the farmer would not have been getting justice now.

The company is composed of thousands of farmers. Any farmer can join it, but no person can get sufficient stock in the corporation even to begin to think of controlling it. Any profits that are made are distributed among the thousands of members.

The company is well and ably administered. Its profits go to the members of the company, but the real achievements of the organization have been shared by all the western Canadian farmers.

That is the organization that such members as Dr. Edwards and H. H. Stevens are so fond of baiting. Stevens are so fond of baiting.—Exchange.

CULLED FROM EXCHANGES

The reactionary members of the United States congress insist that the United States must take no part in European affairs, and also that it should decide upon the relations of Great Britain and Ireland, which rather indicates that the jewel known as consistency has no part or lot in the United States congress.

The piano men are making the most vigorous protest against the new taxation, insisting that it means the cutting of their business in twain. The song which they sang to the government seems already to have created a discord in the cabinet and Sir Henry Drayton has decided to consider.

The soviet government expresses the utmost amazement because the league of nations would want to send a committee to investigate while Poland is attempting to swat the same soviet in a vital part. There may be other reasons why the soviet does not welcome visitors at this particular time.

One member of the house of commons rejoices and thanks his maker that there is not a moving picture theater in his riding, which brings to mind the public man who rejoiced that his riding had never been bitten by education and few among the honest people who resided there could read or write or understand any of these new fangled things.

The G.W.V.A. boys are putting on a guessing contest. A splendid team of big roan mares, with fine colts, worth at least $650.00, is the prize offered, and will go to the best guesser on the number of beans in a jar. The jar can be seen in Reinecke's window. The price will be one dollar per guess. — Review Advertiser, Claresholm.

BURDEN OF NEW TAXATION HITS MAN LEAST ABLE TO BEAR IT

OTTAWA, May 31.—The budget debate is drawing to a close. A tacit agreement has been reached between the two sides of the house to terminate it tomorrow night, if possible, but the best laid plans are apt sometimes to run astray. Today Hon. T. A. Crerar, one time minister of agriculture in the Union government, now leader of the National Progressives, was the principal speaker. Tomorrow, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition, will continue the debate.

Mr. Crerar's main criticism of the budget was that its whole tenor was to place the burden on the shoulders of the man least able to bear it. On the broad question of protection and free trade, he declared that the Canadian council of agriculture did not stand for absolute free trade as so many seemed to think. It stood for placing on the free list such articles as the implements of production needed for the development of natural resources.

"Are you in favor of free trade in Canada?" interjected H. H. Stevens of Vancouver.

"I will say this," Mr. Crerar replied, "that the fiscal policy obtaining in Great Britain would be a better one for Canada than the policy we now have in operation here."

As an instance of protected industry, Mr. Crerar cited the Dominion Textile company. The Dominion Textile company, he said, had issued five million dollars worth of common stock at ten dollars a share. It was "pure, undiluted water" but sold last year at $125 a share.

Criticizes Mr. Crerar

Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford, who followed, had some strong criticism of Mr. Crerar. He charged that, while a member of the government, Mr. Crerar was drawing a salary from United Grain Growers, Ltd., (of which he was president) equal to his salary as a minister and his indemnity as a member of parliament combined.

Mr. Sutherland claimed also that the directors of the United Grain Growers put a curious "recall" into effect by increasing Mr. Crerar's salary from $10,000 to $15,000 a year "to go into effect when he dropped out of the government."

Winked at Profiteering

Subsequent debate continued late. Joseph Archambault, of Chambly-Vercheres, claimed that the government had winked at profiteering. In distributing money lent to Greece and Rumania it had helped its friends. The Welland Vale Mfg. Co. had participated in the orders to the extent of $136,210. The president of the company was J. W. Chaplin, member for Lincoln. The Maritime Mail Co., of St. John, sold goods to the amount of $69,168. The president and managing director was Stanley Elkin, M.P. for St. John. The Brantford Roofing Co. and the Monarch Milling Co., had secured orders. In the former W. F. Cockshutt, M.P.—the apostle of protection—for Brantford, was interested; the president of the latter was F. R. Lalor, member for Haldimand. The Monarch Co. sold goods totalling $271,844. Likewise, said Mr. Archambault the Canada Paint Co. had participated and of this company, the minister of marine and fisheries was a vice-president.

F. B. McCurdy (Colchester) urged unity of effort in a long, strong pull, to repay the massive war liabilities. The public should be given a full understanding of the financial situation. It was one thing to raise taxes from an unwilling public which did not understand; another to raise money from a public well informed.

Subsequent speeches were made by E. H. Halbert, North Ontario; A. M. Dechene, Montmagny; and O. R. Gould, Assiniboia.

Mr. Halbert said farmers were no longer willing to leave the governing of the country to politicians; Mr. Dechene thought the budget proposals were Tory proposals to make the rich richer, and the poor poorer; Mr. Gould that it was a strange new high protectionist budget.

What Follows Plundering

Mr. Gould said that if the wholesale plundering of the people was not stopped "then this government has not police enough in Canada to quiet the riots that will surely follow."

Mr. Gould spoke from shortly after midnight till 1.45 a.m. Attendance was so slim that for at time there was not even a quorum in the house. The house adjourned at 1.50 a.m.

Resuming the budget debate Hon. T. A. Crerar, took occasion to reply to various critics of the Progressive party. The accusation made by H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, against the United Grain Growers' Company were entirely irrelevant and wide of the mark. Coming to wheat control, Mr. Crerar said that for himself and those behind him, they believe that government control in matters of this kind was not good as a permanent policy. He advised Mr. Stevens to ask the minister of the interior or the minister of colonization, or the government itself, what they proposed to do. It might be the government was harboring the thought of continuation to offset the farmers' demands for a lower tariff. The chairman of the agricultural committee, R. C. Henders, might also be consulted, for he was reported as being strongly in favor of continuation of control.

Mr. Crerar reviewed the doings of the Grain Export Company in New York and said this company had done great work for the allies during the war without a cent of pay for their services.

Farmers and O.B.U.

Referring to the charge that he was the chief supporter of the One Big Union idea in Canada, Mr. Crerar said that that movement was largely the product of unjust conditions in Canada and that the member for Algoma (G. B. Nicholson) would be better occupied in working to remove these conditions than in aiming pointless criticism at a member of the house.

Mr. Crerar denied acquaintance with Mrs. Rose Henderson, a Socialist speaker, who was accused of having been sent to Temiskaming to influence the electors there recently.

Political D.T.'s

"It was pretty cheap of the member for Algoma to accuse me of that," said Mr. Crerar. "I think he is suffering from political delirium tremens."

The minister of finance had done a brave thing in disclosing the true financial condition of the country.

Cut Down Expenditure

It must have required courage to introduce the legislation, much of which was bad. Mr. Crerar suggested that it would be better to cut the national expenditure than to try and make national revenue meet the enormously increased expenses. He pointed out that income fell far short of the proposed expenditure this year, and the minister of finance banked on recovering some balance due from the mother country. This was not sound as a policy of cutting down expenditure to a safe margin. That could be done in the direction of the proposed expenditure for public work, military, etc., which were luxuries, as a matter of fact.

Business Profits Tax

There was nothing to be said against the business profits tax as a war measure, said Mr. Crerar. However, Mr. Crerar ventured to say that it had not brought in one-tenth of what it should have done during the war. There was no excuse for continuing it as a peace measure.

The minister of finance had referred to increases in the income tax. Mr. Crerar declared that the men with a $5,000 income would pay only $6 more next year than he had done last year. The $50,000 a year man was increased $459.50 and the $100,000 a year man $1,559.50.

Mr. Crerar compared the figures in Canada and Great Britain for income tax. A $5,000 income was taxed $750 in Britain against about $120 in Canada; $10,000 income $2,250 in Great Britain against $619.50 in Canada; $20,000 income $6,182.50 in Britain against $2,089 in Canada; $100,000 income $47,187 in Britain against $32,740 in Canada. The minister of the interior had said that the $500,000 income in Canada was taxed more heavily than in Great Britain. Mr. Crerar reminded him that there were very few incomes of half a million yearly in Canada, but there were many between $10,000 and $20,000. The new proposals would not be a burden to those with larger incomes. The whole tenor of the budget, Mr. Crerar declared, was to place the burden on the shoulders of those who were least able to bear it.

It was no wonder that there was unrest throughout the whole country. He declared himself pleased that the government had at last announced its policy on the tariff. For a long time there had been doubt in the public mind as to where the government really stood. There was much anxiety but the matter has now been settled. The two conflicting elements in the government, low tariff and protection, had apparently reached a settlement.

Mr. Meighen's Sayings

Mr. Crerar referred to the different statements on tariff matters which had been made, and particularly to the speeches by Hon. Arthur Meighen at Montreal, Kingston and Winnipeg. In some of these, the minister had spoken for "adequate protection," and in others moderate protection or tariff for revenue.

Mr. Meighen declared that the latter two phrases were all that he had used. That was exactly where he stood.

Mr. Crerar said in that case, the minister of the interior had taken a somewhat remarkable stand in this chamber a few nights ago.

Mr. Crerar was pleased that there was no doubt now as to where both the government and the Liberal party stood in regard to the tariff.

Mr. Meighen had set out to show that free trade in Great Britain had proved a failure. Mr. Meighen had many times to defend doubtful cases on behalf of the government, but there never was such a hard proposition undertaken as the one assigned to him the other night.

Mr. Meighen had talked a great deal about Great Britain's adverse trade balance, but it was not so much the trade balance as the total volume of trade. All European countries, especially those with high protection, had experienced adverse trade balances.

Crerar Quotes Figures

He quoted figures to show that the average volume of domestic exports from Britain in five years ending with the year 1805 was £39,000,000; that in the five years ending 1850 the total was £61,000,000; an increase of about £22,000,000 in fifty years; and that in the five years ending 1900, the total was £253,000,000, or an increase in that fifty years of £192,000,000. It was all nonsense to say that the change in her fiscal policy was not the one essential factor in Great Britain's prosperity.

Mr. Crerar said that if there had been a decline in agriculture in Great Britain, the cause could be traced to her land policy rather than to free trade. But there had been no such decline.

Protection in Canada

Protection, said Mr. Crerar, had resulted in a decrease in the rural population of Canada as compared with the whole population. In the year 1881, when the present tariff was adopted, the rural population of Canada was 72 per cent. In 1911, this had declined to 45 percent. He expressed the opinion that if the reciprocity arrangement advocated in 1911 had gone through, farm lands in the west would have been worth $5 an acre more than they are today. The reason would be that farmers would have a market in the United States for their produce.

Mr. Crerar took issue with Mr. Meighen on the subject of the effect of free trade on the United Kingdom. The latter's recent statement that Great Britain had lost much in prosperity as a result of the fiscal policy, Mr. Crerar said was a "most extraordinary statement." During the war Great Britain had financed her own colossal operations, loaned $8,000,000,000 to her allies, and thus soon after the war proposed this year to pay off a billion dollars of her national debt.

"I submit that the whole argument in regard to the fiscal policy of Great Britain has shown such policy to be successful, and that a similar policy in Canada could do nothing, but rebound to the benefit of this Dominion," said Mr. Crerar.

He could not see the sense in trying to create a cotton industry in this country at the present because there were natural industries such as agriculture, to be dealt with first. He was satisfied that Canada would eventually be a large manufacturing country, but if they could place 2,000,000 farmers on the land instead of 700,000 or 800,000 as at present, it would be a good thing for everybody, including the manufacturers themselves.

Pure Unadulterated Water

He next dealt with the Dominion Textile company, which he said had issued $5,000,000 worth of common stock at $10 a share, and which stock was pure unadulterated water, and which sold last year at $125 a share. This company enjoyed the shelter of a high protective tariff. Statistics showed that there were 15,000 employees in the textile industry, and their average yearly wage was $38.23. "Is that what protection has done for workers in the textile industry?" he asked.

Prohibition and Personal Liberty

(Contributed)

Macleod was favored by a visit from Rev. E. Thomas, now of Toronto but formerly of Vancouver, one of Canada's well known preachers and writers, who gave an address in the Presbyterian Church on Friday night upon the coming referendum. In opening his address Mr. Thomas stated that many, if not most people, have been laboring under a misconception. We have been talking about prohibition and prohibition law, its faults and failings when as a matter of fact we have no real prohibition in the country. All that the present temperance acts seek to do in the various provinces in which they have been passed is to do away with the bars and the public drinking of liquor, and in so far as this has been achieved so far have these measures been a success. Nearly all the temperance legislation of the past few years has been based upon the old Manitoba Liquor Act, which while it sought to abolish the bar and the public drinking of liquor conserved to the citizen the right to have liquor in his own house, so that any objections to the working of the present temperance acts can be met by insisting upon the fact that these acts have accomplished what they were intended to do. But now it is proposed to place upon the statute books of the country a law which invaded the sanctity of the home and prohibit the use of intoxicating liquors there. This at first sight might seem most unconstitutional and contrary to all sense of British right, but the late war taught us that many things in our natural life and customs had to be thrown aside or changed for the common good.

The speaker went on to say that the greatest objection that would be raised against this prohibition law would be on the ground of the right of the citizen to his "personal liberty" and Mr. Thomas went on to define what personal liberty had meant during the past few years and how one after another of our personal rights had been curtailed during the war.

As the war went on from week to week it became more and more apparent that the voluntary system, upon which every Britisher prided himself, would not stand the strain, and finally it broke down altogether, and the nation had to resort to conscription, conscription of men, of food resources, and this was adopted for the salvation of the nation, for had Germany won the nation would have ceased to exist. Now, said the speaker, the nation is faced with another danger which threatens its life, and existence, namely, the presence of what had been named as racial poisons, such as venereal diseases, tuberculosis, unsanitary dwellings and the like, and in the interests of, and for the preservation of the national life these things must be dealt with. We are waking up to the fact that the state must pass laws to conserve the health of the people, and the government is doing much along this line, yet these laws in very many ways curtail "personal liberty." Health enactments and the erection of hospitals had added an average of 10 years to the life of the citizen in Great Britain since 1870.

In dealing with these racial poisons the speaker said that it had been amply proved that alcoholic liquors were the prime cause. 85 per cent of the venereal diseases were caused by alcohol, and most of the unsanitary conditions in which people were living are due to liquor, and hence it was in the interests of public safety that this evil be removed.

Macleod High School Girls Defeat Lethbridge

A basketball game between Lethbridge and Macleod High School took place on Friday, May 27th, at Lethbridge, resulting in the score of 25-5 in the Macleod Girls' favor. The game was played indoors but the Macleod girls were quite equal to the occasion. At the end of the first half the score was 18-1. After that, however, the Macleod team recovered their visiting manners and gave Lethbridge a chance. The line-up for the Macleod girls was—Centres, Erna Theil, Annie Davis; guards, Gldays McNab, Alberta McCrea; forwards, Essie MacDonald, Velma Kirk.

Bay and Bankers at Baseball

On Friday evening last the doughty warriors from the Hudson's Bay, sallied forth seeking the scalps of the worthy brotherhood of bankers in a game of baseball, but notwithstanding the fact that they had with them a pitcher of International League repute they were not able to put it over the Bankers. The game was fast, furious and funny, that is it afforded lots of fun to the fans, and despite the fact that the Bay was trimmed 20 to 9 every body was perfectly good natured over it. Better luck next time fellows.

Easterners May Take E.D. & B.C.

The control of the Edmonton, Dunvegan, and British Columbia Railway is likely to pass into the hands of a group of Eastern capitalists, more or less closely associated with the Canadian Pacific Railway. Definite settlement of the deal in pending a report on the road now being prepared by W. A. James, western engineer of the C. P. R. This is the news brought back from Ottawa by Premier Stewart, who went east to take up with the federal authorities the two pressing questions of the McArthur railway and the transfer of the province's natural resources. The premier has just returned from his trip, and reports a fair prospect of settling the railway question, but not any immediate likelihood of getting the resources.

Resources Question

The premier was unable to secure an answer on the natural resources question, which he discussed with Sir Robert Borden and Hon. Arthur Meighen. The most that he could get was a promise that the matter would be taken up again in council during the present session of parliament, and he would be notified of the results.

The purchase of Alberta irrigation bonds was another matter discussed with the Dominion authorities, but they were not disposed to enter the market as buyers, and the likelihood is that the bonds will have to be offered for sale through the regular stock-broking channels. — Calgary Herald.

Sir Sam Hughes and U.S. Congress

OTTAWA, May 29.—The action of the foreign relations committee of the United States house of representatives, in reporting a resolution expressing "grave concern" over conditions in Ireland, and "sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people to have a government of their own choice," has awakened some echoes in Ottawa. Sir Sam Hughes has given notice of a long resolution to be placed upon the order papers of the house of commons, which may be regarded as a suggestion to the legislators composing the congress committee that they reform certain conditions in their own country before directing their attention to affairs in Ireland.

Look to Themselves

The proposed resolution conveys the impression that Irish tenants in the United States are subject to more stringent laws than tenants in Ireland, and urges that "some effective means be adopted to educate the citizens of the United States of America and especially certain members of the United States congress, to study their home concerns with a view to mitigating the horrible situation concerning the negro problem and such other problems requiring attention in that country."

The motion of the ex-minister of militia may not be reached before the close of this session of parliament. W. F. Cockshutt, of Brantford, made a passing reference to the United States resolution in his speech in the budget debate today. He said that when he read of certain United States congressmen trying to tell Great Britain how to manage Ireland, he thought of the outrages being perpetrated among the colored people of the southern states of the American union, where they were being hanged, and even burned, without a trial.

More Wars Forecasted

BUDAPEST, May 29.—Startling prophecies relative to world peace, political changes impending in Europe and the fate of prominent figures in the great war are made by Hungary's national sooth-sayer, Madame Sybiline Bellaugh.

"Thrones will be re-established all over Europe, including France, Germany, Austria, Poland and Hungary within a year," she says.

"The Hohenzollerns will return to Germany, but the former emperor will go insane and the crown prince will be murdered. There will be sanguinary upheavals in France, preliminary to the constitution of a kingdom. Bolshevism will end in 1921 in Russia. Mexico will be the starting point of the next war. High prices will abate and European exchange will be quoted at par in two years. There will be the greatest exodus of Jews from Russia and Central Europe in history, but they will not go to Palestine. They will emigrate to Argentina and Mexico."

REACH & CO.

Many people who could pay their debts, but won't, could help those who would pay but can't by buying for cash and not trying to increase their indebtedness; for a merchant is generally soft hearted and would help deserving families more if he had a little timely assistance from a purchasing public who are in the receipt of regular pay. It is a sign of a diseased morality or intellect for many to hide themselves in the delusion that because they have a permanent position they are a privileged class. And the merchant who trusts them, in many instances, can whistle for his pay. We have one case of several, who is a girl, in receipt of government pay earning about $70 per month, who has had letters innumerable asking for something on account, but to all requests and threats never says "Boo," but calmly ignores each letter. We merchants pay taxes and all government demands in return they should see that they do not keep in their employ Dead Beats who prey on the gullible merchants.

Warships Ready For Irish Ports

LONDON, May 30.—The National News says: The position in Ireland we understand is so grave that a number of warships are now being fitted out for dispatch to Irish ports. The situation is more serious than would appear from published telegrams, and startling developments are expected in the next few days.

Highlanders Go to Cork

QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, May 30.—The Cameron Highlanders, recently ordered for service in Ireland disembarked here to day and paraded through the streets to their huts. Guns and ammunition were transferred from the steamer to an admiralty trawler, which with a number of the troops, proceeded for Cork.

Belfast Labor Men Agree

BELFAST, Ireland, May 3.—The Irish trade congress has promised its full support to the Dublin railway strikers. This may lead to a repetition of the deadlock which occurred over the hunger strikers.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the National Union of Railwaymen. Mr. Farrell said the executive committee of the Labor party has decided the fight should not end with the railwaymen and dockers, but that it should be taken up by the whole of the working class of Ireland. He added the executive had instructed him to see that another delegate should go to England to interview the members of the "triple alliance."

Mail Train Held Up

SKIBBEREEN, Ireland, May 30.—A mail train from Bantry to Cork was held up at Durrus road station by armed men today. The men took the mail bags and decamped in an automobile.

Fled Before Villagers

BELFAST, Ireland, May 30.—Early Sunday a party of armed raiders in automobiles visited Gully Backley, county Antrim, and started to burn the police barracks. The raiders fled however when the villagers turned out in a body to oppose them.

Customs Office Burned

CASTLETOWN, Ireland, May 30.—The Berhaven customs office was destroyed by fire this morning. An adjoining steamship office building had a narrow escape from a like fate.

Greenwood Leaves Ireland

DUBLIN, May 30.—General Sir MacReady, military commander, and Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, left Dublin today for London. It is understood that they have been summoned to attend a meeting of the cabinet at which the policy with regard to Ireland is to be discussed on Monday.

Destroyed Sunday Papers

DUNDALK, Ireland, May 30.—Opposition to the Sunday newspapers continued. A dozen armed men today seized all the newspaper parcels from Dublin and burned them. A policeman attempted to intervene but was disarmed.

Canadian Shoe-makers Start on Interesting Campaign

Not long ago the Canadian Shoe Manufacturers' Association held a convention in the ancient and picturesque city of Quebec, at which convention, to use the vernacular, "there was something doing." This is such a large and spread-out country that Canadians are sometimes apt to get insular or local in their viewpoint. In consequence many Canadians imagine that the shoe industry of the country is not a very important one. But there are to-day 158 concerns making boots and shoes in Canada. These firms employ over 22,000 people—as many people as there are in the city of Brandon, or New Westminster—which 22,000 people support perhaps three times as many more. These employees make over seventeen million pairs of shoes a year, valued at approximately $50,000,000. The shoe industry in Canada has attained greater proportions than many people imagine.

At the convention referred to, it was resolved that action should be taken to acquaint the people of Canada with the facts regarding the native shoe industry. In the first place, this industry, as one of the delegates pointed out, has come in for some rather harsh and adverse criticism lately at the hands of politicians, as an industry fattening at the people's expense, behind a tariff wall.

The shoe men decided that there was only one way to refute that accusation—that was to prove by figures that Canadian-made shoes are better value, grade for grade, than shoes made in the United States, and that the tariff, while necessary to prevent the flooding of this country at odd times with foreign goods, is not in any way a factor in determining the price of Canadian-made shoes.

Another point that is to be made in the advertising campaign is this—Many Canadians believe that in order to get styles fitting their own individual ideals of smartness, they must buy shoes imported from other countries, notably the United States. This prejudice acts in a peculiar way. It has caused us to think that Canadian shoe styles must be behind those imported. They would accept any style of shoe, if imported, as being correct, and refuse any Canadian shoe, no matter how smart and attractive it was, simply because it was a home product. As a matter of fact, shoe styles are not indigenous to any country. Canadian shoemakers are abreast of every change in style, no matter where in the world it occurs. And it is interesting to know that Canada, which once slavishly followed the least whim of the foreign makers, is now showing commendable independence in this particular. A visitor from New York told the writer recently that the famous Scotch brogue had not taken in the United States at all, whereas in Canada it is a most popular and widely worn model.

With the utmost enthusiasm, enterprise and alertness, the Canadian manufacturers are conducting their business on the basis of service to their employees and buyers of their goods. They are making and marketing goods of the highest quality at the lowest possible prices, and conducting their business on an independent and competitive basis. They are giving the 12,000 retailers, through whom their goods are distributed, all the assistance in their power, and distributing millions of dollars in wages to Canadian workmen. Now, through a campaign of advertising, they are laying all their cards on the table before the Canadian people, and asking their support, not on sentimental grounds, but as a matter of straight business.

All things concerned, the Canadian shoe manufacturers are deserving of the enthusiastic support of every man and woman who wants to see this country's industries maintained and enlarged, and the Canadian dollar returned to its full purchasing power in every market in the world.

East Short of Coal

MONTREAL, May 29.—Following up previous reports with regard to the crisis that is breaking in the bituminous coal situation, it was stated yesterday by leading manufacturers and other heavy users of steam coal, that a warning circular had been issued for their guidance. This set forth that the coal year, commencing April 1, had started with practically no reserve stocks, a condition without parallel in the history of the continent. To meet this state of affairs, the circular asks that manufacturers and others within the area of distribution of the maritime provinces and Alberta and British Columbia procure their supply from these sources so as to avoid overloading transportation. If present conditions continue, it is stated by several large coal dealers that it might be necessary to stop the exports of the maritime provinces of bituminous coal to Europe and take steps to secure greater tonnage for the carrying of it to Montreal and other leading distribution centres.

Crop Conditions

The splendid rain of Sunday and Monday has completely changed the crop outlook around Macleod. After the heavy winds of last week many farmers were afraid that they would have nothing left and they came into town on Saturday feeling very despondent. It is now pretty generally admitted that while some damage was done by the wind, more in some places than in others, yet those farmers who have gone out over their land since Sunday say that the loss is by no means as great as they first feared, and if we can get a few warm days after those soaking showers the prospects for a good crop are well assured.

A novelty! Thrilling and exciting Pathe serial containing romance of a high order; comedy of the most hilarious type; stunts galore of reckless daredevil kind; thrills which cause the audience to gasp and gape! The popular and approved serial mixture—plus broad and logical comedy. "Bound and Gagged" coming to the Empress soon.

THE FULL BREAD TRAY

soon becomes empty when the bread is from our ovens. Its fine palatable flavor, its lightness, its beautiful golden brown crust make our bread a favorite everywhere. And you cannot possibly have a better food or a cheaper one. Give it a trial and you'll keep on using it.
